

1. Design an api that access the data from the database.

Create a table with the following fields:

Name,

Age,

Course,

College.

Perform CRUD operations as explained during the morning lecture.

2. Consume the api in a python application.